The range of OXI-GOLD Audio, Visual & Digital Accessories are designed to ensure the transfer of superior digital quality signals between your home entertainment systems such as TVs, satellite devices and DVD players.

Our TV satellite connectors and couplers are devices used to split the signal from a satellite dish into multiple outputs, allowing multiple TVs or receivers to receive the same signal. They are designed to maintain signal strength and quality while distributing the signal to multiple locations. This allows for simultaneous viewing of satellite TV on different devices in a home or office.
